After 33 years, we're ending our Day in the Life of a School Nurse catalog cover series. This series has meant so much to our School Health family, and we know customers look forward to our covers, so we wanted to take some time to thank and highlight the artist behind it all: Mike Hagel. Susan Rogers, School Health's Chief People Officer, spoke with Hagel about the impact of his cover series and what it meant to him.

Can you tell us a bit about the history of this series and how you started working with School Health?

We were introduced to each other through School Health's advertising agency. When I spoke to Bob Cormack, Susan Rogers' father and president of School Health at the time, he said he was looking for an artist who could paint in the style of Norman Rockwell to make their catalog covers. I did a lot of paintings in this style because it was popular and not a lot of people were doing it, so I suggested a Day in the Life of a School Nurse series. I created the first painting for the cover series in 1992.

School Nurses have loved this series over the years. What do you hope your impact on school nurses is through this series of paintings? What do you want them to know?

I tried to encapsulate a day in the life of what a school nurse might be going through—the pain or the fun. For example, the cover about depression highlighted a serious issue and I felt like I was able to highlight the moment while also bringing some lightheartedness to it. Rockwell used to draw some serious stuff, too.

I always enjoyed doing this series, and I am glad to be a part of capturing the important work school nurses have done.

How did you find your inspiration for the cover every year?

Early on, I would come up with the scenario for the cover, and then I would work with School Health to add some of their products into the image. Eventually, I worked closely with the Rogers and Cormack families to decide on a subject that we wanted to address.

Besides the school nurses at NASN, we wanted to make sure that the cover was never too serious. If it did address something on the serious side, I would always try to add a little softness to the piece with a Rockwell-style smile on one of people in the painting.

Why has this series been important to you over the last 33 years?

This series has been great—I have enjoyed it. Every year was a challenge. I have gotten to meet many nurses at NASN over the years, and I would get ideas for future covers from them, too. I loved seeing the nurses at the conference—I felt like Elvis Presley with them! They would line up at my table, and I would personalize each signing.

Tell us a little bit about how you picked your models for each painting. Who did you use as inspiration?

I would use neighbors and friends as models. The first cover featured my son and daughter along with some of their friends. I had a friend in the neighborhood that was the school nurse and I used her as a model for the first few catalog covers. The last cover I did featured my daughter-in-law and my grandson.

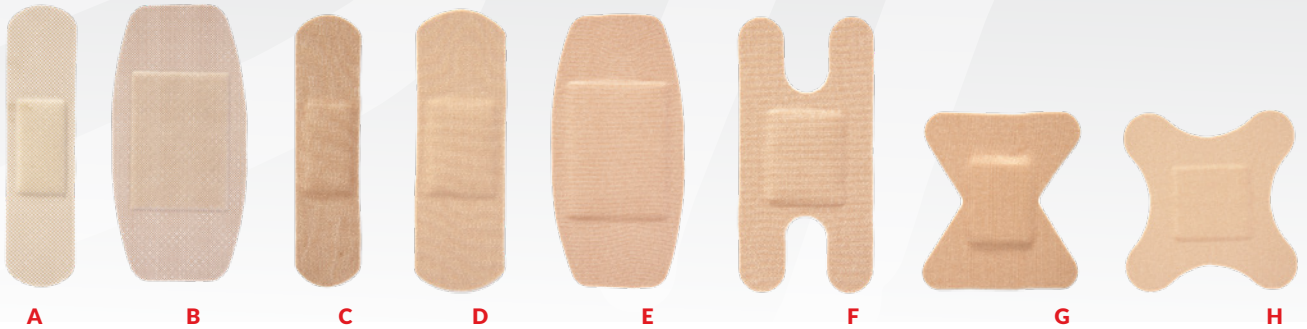

Which cover is your favorite?

The 2019 cover. I had an image in mind that I wanted to draw after working with the school nurses for so many years.

A. QuikClot Bleeding Control Dressings

QuikClot Bleeding Control Dressing stops bleeding of superficial wounds, minor cuts, and abrasions. Utilizing the same fast-acting technology adopted by the U.S. military for years to save lives, the Bleeding Control Dressing accelerates the body's natural clotting process using an inert, inorganic material impregnated into gauze that will not break down. The Bleeding Control Dressing helps blood clot up to five times faster, and it can control bleeding within minutes of application.

School Health Corporation offers two types of emergency tourniquet systems:

It is recommended to have one of each type to be fully prepared for any scenario.

Windlass—Used extensively by the U.S. military due to its quick application and the lock system of the tourniquet that allows the user to know when the tourniquet is tight enough to stop the bleeding. These tourniquets also prevent over-tightening, which can lead to nerve and soft tissue damage.

Elastic—These tourniquets are the standard in hospital settings. Elastic tourniquets are easy to use, cost effective, and can stop hemorrhaging quickly and effectively. These tourniquets can also be used on pediatrics and on areas of the body that other tourniquets may not be as effective.

Windlass Tourniquets

Combat Application Tourniquet (C-A-T)

- Single Routing Buckle speeds up application, decreases blood loss, removes slack, requires fewer windlass turns, and simplifies training
- Proven to be 100% effective in occluding blood flow in both upper and lower extremities

Why you won't find Lice Sprays in the School Health catalog: Head lice are human parasites. They are not environmental pests. Therefore, spraying pesticides for lice is unwarranted and may pose unnecessary health risks. Vacuuming is the effective, realistic, practical, safe, and readily available action to take for peace of mind for areas such as carpeting, furniture, bedding, car seats, stuffed animals, etc. Vacuuming also eliminates the outdated, labor-intensive “bagging” of such items. Clothing and bed linen can be washed.

vision Screener has clinical studies to prove efficacy.

Spot Vision Screener had a sensitivity range of 88-96% and specificity of 76-91% based on quality AAPOS Journal studies.^{3,4,5}

The vision screening program at Pinellas County Schools (PCS) operated with fewer staff/volunteers and estimates it saved 6 weeks of vision screening time.⁶

Combining instrument-based screening with traditional visual acuity screening helps identify more children in need of visual intervention.⁷

Reduce the risk of vision loss through fast, accurate, no-contact screening. The Welch Allyn Spot Vision Screener offers innovative technology that can facilitate early detection and treatment of vision disorders, while keeping your students safe and healthy.

Welch Allyn Spot Vision Screener

Spot Vision Screener is a fast and objective way to detect up to six amblyopic risk factors that may lead to blindness in children or impair a child's vision development. Spot requires minimal user training and captures results automatically when the screening conditions are optimal to effectively screen any child in a matter of seconds, resulting in high test-completion rates.

Why Spot Vision Screener is Perfect for Schools

- Touch-screen display is easy to operate and intuitive, on-screen instructions guide users through the screening process
- Handheld, point-and-shoot technology captures results 97% of the time¹
- Clinically proven to increase vision intervention rates compared to visual acuity testing alone¹
- Noninvasive, 3-foot working distance requiring minimal cooperation from the child
- Pre-load student lists before a screening day to increase efficiency and then export results via USB or a wireless network
- Immediate on-screen results of both eyes offer either a "Complete Eye Exam Recommended" or "All Measurements in Range" (also lists conditions, if detected)
- Screening result certificate can be printed wirelessly to label or desktop printer to improve follow-up communication

It is important that you always refer to your state or district guidelines regarding vision screening and use of instrument-based tools.

Early Intervention Screening Kits

School Health Exclusive Early Intervention Vision & Hearing Combo Kits

When dealing with vision and hearing problems, early intervention is important for proper development of speech and language. With early detection, treatment outcomes are much more successful.

The School Health Early Intervention Vision & Hearing Combo Kit offers everything you need for comprehensive vision and hearing screening.

Vision screening is performed with the Welch Allyn Spot Vision Screener, providing objective results in seconds, screening the whole lens at once from three feet away.

The unit indicates abnormal readings and then a pass or refer result is given to indicate whether a child should be referred for further evaluation.

Hearing is screened with the Otoacoustic Emissions (OAE) Screener. This unit screens the hair cells in the middle ear through a soft tone that is presented in the ear canal. A small microphone measures the echo that is returned from the ear. The echo is analyzed to determine how well the inner ear is working.

LEA SYMBOLS/NUMBERS Charts, Sets, and Cards

LEA TEST VISION SYSTEM™ for Visual Acuity developed by Lea Hyvärinen, MD

The LEA Visual Acuity Test System is the only complete set of visual acuity tests for near and far distance vision for all age groups, 18 months and older. The tests are based on four symbols which blur equally at the threshold.

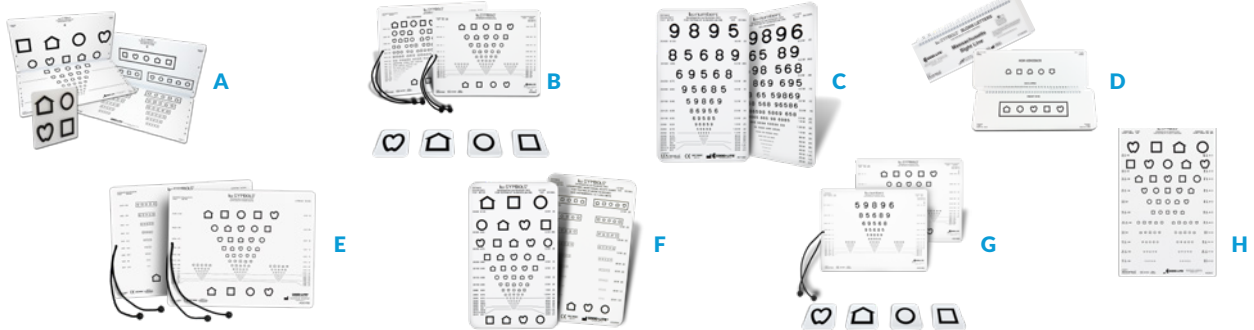

The symbols are easy to name, sign, or point to on the key card or flash cards (included with every test, except 52152). The tests are designed to create a play situation where the child never experiences failure.

When no longer correctly recognized, the symbols blur into circles appropriately called “rings” or “balls” by the child. The child can still perceive that he/she is answering “correctly,” while the examiner can easily detect the acuity threshold.

The system features line tests, single symbol tests, and a crowded symbol test at high contrast. A low contrast line test with five contrast levels is also available. Instructions are included with each test.

LEA SYMBOLS® recommended by:

- American Academy of Pediatrics (Committee on Practice and Ambulatory Medicine and Section on Ophthalmology)
- American Association of Certified Orthoptists
- American Association for Pediatric Ophthalmology and Strabismus
- American Academy of Ophthalmology
- National Center for Children’s Vision and Eye Health at Prevent Blindness

Special Needs Vision Screening

Sequential Screening Recommendation:

If a child will not participate with a standard test of visual acuity, such as a full threshold chart, or a chart with a single line of five optotypes in a crowded box, use the tests in this section in the following sequence:

- 1. LEA SYMBOLS® Crowded Symbol Book—Use the mask to show only one symbol at a time. If a child cannot participate with this test, move to this test next:
- 2. LEA SYMBOLS® Single Symbol Book—Show two different symbols of the same size and ask the child to identify one of the symbols. The child can point or even use eye gaze to identify the symbol.
- 3. LEA SYMBOLS® Single Presentation Flash Cards—Use to present the child single optotypes.

Special Education Vision Screening Tool Kit

This kit offers sequential components that allow you to assess the functional vision of children who were previously considered untestable. The sequential screening recommendation starts children with a crowded symbols test and moves them along to other tests if they cannot participate in the first test.

Kit includes:

LEA SYMBOLS® Crowded Symbol Book, 10 Foot Test

Designed for screening children who find other charts challenging. Child identifies middle optotype only. Because of the crowding effect, it often allows measurement of line acuity of young children much earlier than the visual acuity charts, to help detect amblyopia or impaired vision early.

LEA SYMBOLS® Single Symbol Book Set

Designed for screening children and adults who have difficulties in perception of symbols in lines.

Hiding Heidi Low-Contrast Test Set

Determining the levels of detectable contrast helps provide baseline data for evaluating future changes. For example, deviations from usual behavior may indicate disorders that leave vision at high-contrast levels unaffected.

LEA SYMBOLS® Single Presentation Flash Cards, 10 Foot Test

Designed for testing distance visual acuity in children and adults who have difficulty with visual acuity charts, the Crowded Symbol Book Test, or the Single Symbol Book Test.

LEA SYMBOLS® Puzzle 3D with Booklet

Can be used in circle time to familiarize children with shapes prior to screening.

Sunflower Occluder Glasses

Flip-up sunflowers to permit occlusion of each eye. Recommended for children 3 years to 6 years old.

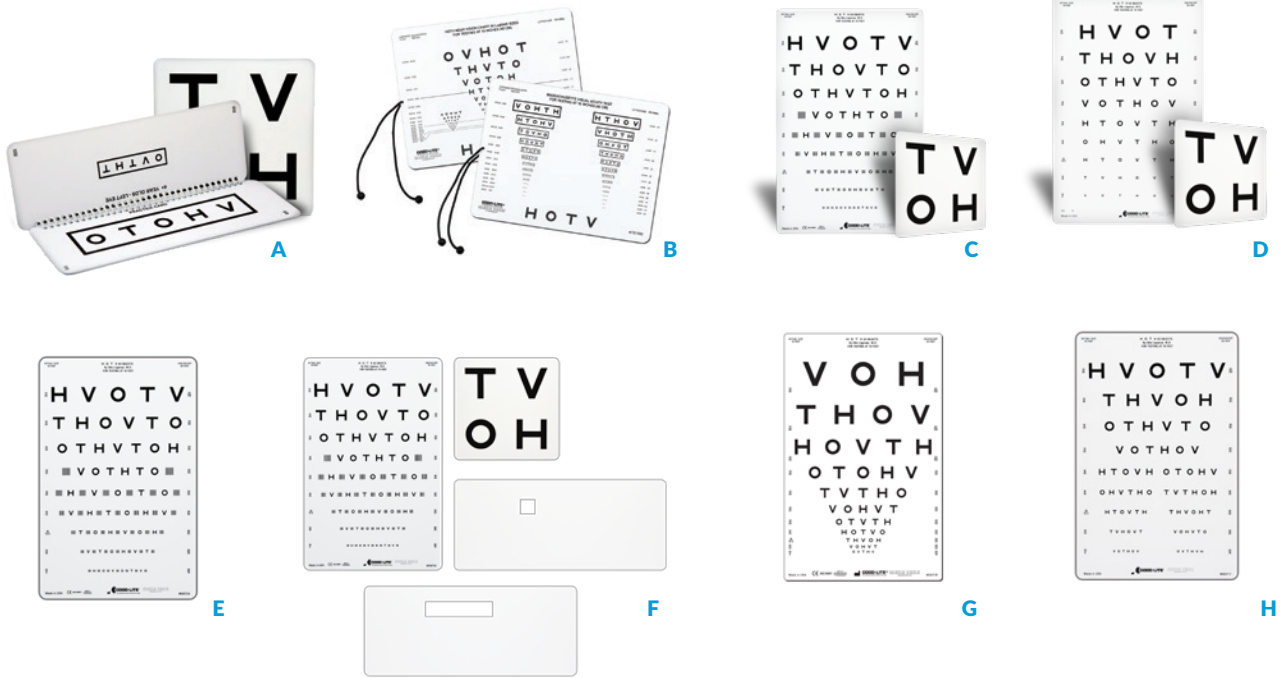

Parrot Frosted Occluder Glasses

Two frosted glasses, one to occlude each eye. Can be used until the age of 10 years.

MAICO ERO•SCAN® OAE Screener

The ERO•SCAN OAE Screener is an Otoacoustic Emission Hearing Screener for the early detection of hearing loss. The smaller design and accessories allow for easy portability and ease of use. Perfect for any age group, but recommended for all children aged 3 years and under. OAE screening is also appropriate for children over 3 who are unable to follow the instructions or complete the tasks required for Pure Tone screening.

- Lightweight, 6.4 oz.
- Battery life good for 15 hours of continuous testing or a minimum 1,000 tests, once charged

* Review the probe tube after each patient to confirm the tube does not have debris. When debris is visualized, replace probe tube before next test. If mass screenings are being performed, it is best practice to replace the probe tube at the end of the screening day. This allows the probe tube to be clear and free of debris for the next screening day. When replacing the probe tube, push the tube into the probe until you feel it seated and tightened into position.

MAICO PILOT TEST Audiometer

The MAICO PILOT TEST Audiometer provides fast hearing tests from a small and lightweight unit that includes an integrated pure tone audiometer. The ideal hearing testing device for children aged 2 years and older. The design of the PILOT TEST puts the child at ease and allows the screener to quickly determine which method of screening is best for the child. The 2-in-1 design allows screeners options to actively and reliably move the testing process along. At the end of the "game", the child is rewarded with a pilot sticker for their active participation.

Pure Tone Audiometry

For school-aged children, the device provides a manual pure tone audiometer with 11 frequencies. This full function air conduction audiometer can be used for screening measurements. With manual screening, you can choose the speed at which you present the tones. Easy fingertip operation gives you the flexibility to choose the frequency and hearing levels quickly and confidently. Results can be recorded on the included score pads or optional printer.

Select Picture Audiometry

The PILOT TEST offers an interactive game aiming to examine hearing and speech comprehension for children as young as three years old. Children earn their "Pilot License" and have their hearing screened in a fun way.

Children listen to 10 sentences in descending volume. After each sentence, they point to the corresponding picture on the picture board and the screener records the result.

Perfect Hearing Test for Kids

With the dual testing operation, the PILOT TEST is the perfect testing method for children aged two years and older. English and Spanish word lists allow testing for children who are not native speakers.

MAICO DD65 v2 Headsets

The adjustable headband expands the use of one headphone option from preschool children through adults. The RadioEar DD65 v2 headset places the cushion around the outside of the external ear (pinna) compared to supra-aural headphones that sit directly on the pinna. Due to the circumaural fit of the headphone, noise reduction (attenuation) of external environmental sounds is improved compared to the DD45 headset. This allows standard room noise to cause less interference during the testing process which leads to faster and more reliable results.

Headsets are not interchangeable, calibration is required. To ensure compatibility with the headset, check your device's serial number starting with 'MA' and make sure it was manufactured from 2013 onward.
